The Gifted Gift Giver Quiz Score Sheet:

0-2 Giftling Greenhorn: You think about gifts usually at the last minute and you will likely default to whatever you can find without much shopping around. You look forward to showing care for the recipients you just aren't confident about how to delight them. You may find one type of gift and give it over and over. If you could find a way to stop giving gift that would be ok with you.

3-6 Amateur Well Wisher: You give gifts when you feel it's necessary but it's not likely something you look forward to doing. You spend as little time and money as possible to find gifts. You don't get very excited when receiving a gift but try to be polite. You make a minimal effort because you don't get what all the fuss is about. You are capable of rising to the occasion when you choose a gift for someone special to you. You are able to push yourself to make a special memory for special people just not very often.

7-11 Heartfelt Enthusiast: You love giving to others and showing them you care with surprises. You are excited to find just the right gift and you do plan ahead when you can. You take time to shop throughout the year and add a personal touch to gifts when you can. You love to receive gifts and show sincere appreciation and want to create the same feeling for others.

12+ Wholehearted Caretaker: you look for gifts all year long for all the people on your list and you have an impressive list of people you care for. You are painstaking at finding sales, organizing, wrapping, and shopping for gifts and you can't wait for your loved ones to open their gifts. It's a thrill when you find the right gift and you get a bit anxious if you think you may have missed a gift giving occasion. You aren't offended if someone chooses to return a gift you've given since you really want them to have something they like.
